UK GENDER PAY GAP REPORT

Worldpay from FIS® is pleased to be part of the Gender Pay Gap Legislation for the sixth year. This legislation came into force on 6 April 2017 to address the difference in average pay across genders. This requirement is designed to encourage large organisations with more than 250 employees to act on the gender pay gap, which is an ongoing U.K.-wide issue. Employers across all sectors must publish their data onto the government website on an annual basis.

Legislative Requirements

To provide you with an overview of the requirements and date we must provide as a company, the key points are summarised below:

- This is not an analysis of equal pay between roles and gender, but an overall indication of the average pay difference between men and women.
- We must report on legal entities with more than 250 employees within FIS.
- The legal entity we are reporting on is Worldpay (U.K.) Limited. This entity will be referred to as Worldpay from FIS for the purpose of this report.
- Only employees with a contract of employment are included in the reporting, not contractors or agency workers.
- This provides percentage figures on pay and bonus data, specifically mean and median calculations.
- All pay data is based on hourly rates.
- This report provides percentage figures on the number of men and women who receive a bonus.
- This report shows the distribution of men and women from the highest paid to the lowest paid, based on the hourly pay data.
- Pay calculations taken from employees who were active on the snapshot date of 5 April 2022.
- Bonus calculations taken from the relevant period between 6 April 2021 – 5 April 2022 for active employees as of 5 April 2022.

We have provided the gender pay gap data below to the government in respect of Worldpay (U.K.) Limited. To provide some context to the data analysed, this legal entity consists of a population of 2996 employees. We are predominantly made up of the below functions within this legal entity:

- Development
- Product Management
- Client Services
- Call Centre
- Sales
- Corporate

The data below can also be viewed on the Government website.

What does this data mean?

1. What is included in the pay data?

- Basic pay
- Pro rata bonus payment
- Allowances (e.g., first aid)
- On-call payments
- Recruitment and retention one-off incentive payment

2. What is included in the bonus data?

- Performance related bonus
- Commission
- Spot bonus
- LTI/Securities options when income taxed

3. Who is included in the pay data calculations?

- Employees with a contract of employment
- Employees who are on international assignment but have a U.K. contract
- Employees who are on full pay
- Part-time employees are included on their part time salary
- Employees on reduced pay such as unpaid leave, maternity leave, reduced sick pay are excluded

4. Who is included in the bonus data calculations?

- Employees with a contract of employment
- Employees who are on reduced pay as their bonus is pro-rated

5. What do the percentages mean?

- The calculations for mean and median pay and bonus are expressed as a percentage of men's earnings:
 - Positive percentage result shows female employees having lower pay or bonus than men
 - Negative percentage result shows male employees having lower pay or bonus than women
- The expectation is that all companies will have a positive percentage result, hence why this regulation has been rolled out. You can view the data of other companies at

Gender Pay Gap Data

6. What factors affect the reporting?

- Size of employee population
- High male executive salaries and bonuses
- Total gender population i.e., having fewer women in the population
- Pro-rated bonus data is included with full-time bonus data, so is not like-for-like data
- London weighting and outer London salaries
- LTI/Securities are included in calculations
- Salary sacrifice schemes will have an impact

Roadmap to success

As a company, we are continually reviewing the gender pay gap strategy to ensure we are meeting the requirements of an ever-evolving market but more importantly ensuring our most valuable assets, our people, are empowered and supported throughout their journeys at Worldpay from FIS.

In 2018, we outlined a roadmap to help address this gap, which was built on six key areas of focus. This roadmap is our commitment to address the gender pay gap, as part of a combined five-year strategic plan within FIS. During these initial five years, we have built a strong and solid foundation with respect to our gender equality efforts. We will continue to build upon this as we refresh our strategy for the next five years as we work to further improve our gender pay gap.

Impact

Worldpay experienced a considerable decrease in both mean and median ordinary pay gap. We believe our long-term strategies are making a positive impact resulting in a smaller gap in the future. Worldpay from FIS will continue to work to close the gap and identify areas for improvement to ensure we do the right thing.

Mean Pay

Median Pay

▼ -6.2%

The bonus data is in the favour of men as proportion of both men and women receiving bonus has increased from 2021. The mean bonus gap and median bonus gap have increased significantly, due to the bonus harmonisation to FIS Plan guidelines.

Mean Bonus

▲ 15.3%

Median Bonus

61.08%

▲ 48.0%

There has been a small decrease in the upper quartile and a very small decrease in the upper-middle quartile number of women. A large driver for the gender pay gap is the over-representation of men at the top levels; however, due to the number of employees in this legal entity, any change will be slower.

As a company, we are working to recruit and promote women into senior leadership roles. This has been and will continue to be a strategic priority for us.

Further Analysis

As a company, we understand the importance of gender pay gap legislation and have continued to carry out in-depth analysis for 2022 in order to fully understand and highlight key areas that can impact the gender pay gap and to identify areas to address as part of our ongoing five-year strategic objectives.

Chief People Officer

“FIS is committed to creating an inclusive, equitable and diverse working environment for all. I am encouraged by the progress we have made; however, I also acknowledge the work that still needs to be done to ensure FIS is one of the most diverse and inclusive places to work. We remain committed to continuing to invest in hiring and developing the careers of our women colleagues, as well as offering policies and flexibility to drive financial inclusion.”

Statement of accuracy

Gabriel de Montessus
President,
Merchant Solutions

We confirm that the data reported is accurate and aligned to the legislative requirements as part of the Gender Pay Gap Regulation.

“It is encouraging to see that our pay gap has reduced from 2021 and therefore our overall pay gap has continued to reduce since 2019. We remain focused on increasing the proportion of women colleagues at senior levels of the organisation, creating a strong talent pipeline of women at all levels and ensuring our policies and culture encourage. Although there has been an increase in the mean and median bonus pay in 2022, we were expecting this due to limited bonus payments being made in 2021 and continue working towards a reduction in the bonus pay gap going forward. Although we expect there will continue to be some fluctuations, overall the results for 2022 are encouraging and trending in the right direction for sustainable and meaningful change. We are focused on fostering an inclusive culture, advancing our roadmap that remains focused on enabling inclusive leadership, behaviours and actions, where everyone thrives and succeeds.”
